The Times, however, carps at it, and with the exception of all the leading journals in London, and has, it is however, carps at it, and with the exception of the Daily News and Morning Star, its cotemporaries follow it up in much the same, if not ore violent spirit.

The London Daily News has finally discovered that Capt. WILKES, of the San Jacinto, is identical with Capt. WILKES of the United States exploring expedition, and it gathers crumbs of comfort from that fact, for the Commodore is well known in England as a man who would be likely to assume responsibility, and "never shrink from its consequences." The News says:

The article ends thus: "The plain fact seems to be that an incompe ent man has plunged his country into a diffiquestion is whether one portion of the Wash-NO. 81 MERWIN ST., CLEVELAND, OHIO.

It cannot be unreasona-ble to hope that such may be the result." In another editorial article the Daily News frankly admits that "English opinion has been misled as to some apparent indications of the ntentions of the government at Washington. Here is its explanation: Thus it was important that we should know, Much stress has been laid on this supposed order, and it has been used to give color to the most venturous reports, and even predictions. But now it appears that Gen. Scott had said nothing of the kind."

The London Times of the 5th inst., discusses

General Scott's letter, but is not converted by it. The Times argues that other questions at issue at any length the Amerioans may please.

The Times devotes a long article to an analysis of the American naval force, contending that our

"The Emperor of the French having offered himself as a mediator, the obvicus inference is that he will not join England in a war against America. We will not infer that he would become the ally of the Federals."

The Paris Patrie, of Dec. 4th, has an article signed by M. Lapenterie, of which the following is a summary telegraphed to the English pa-Pera:

"It is not the intention of France to avenge insults offered to England. If an outrage has been committed on the seas againgt the British near covernment to

A TRAGEDY IN LEWIS COUNTY A FATHER MURDERED HIS SON.

A COLD BLOODED TRANSACTION.

THE MURDERER ESCAPES. [From the Utica (N. Y.) Telegraph, Dec. 20th.] Yesterday morning the people living in the vicinity of Mr. Henry Hervey whose residence is about six miles north of Boonville, and within one and a half miles of Port Leyden, Lewis Co., "However, the responsibility ought to be shared. Commodore Wilkes affords his government the opportunity of throwing the blame upon him, and backing out of the scrape at his expense."

The trees says.

Were horrified by the intelligence that George Harvey, a young man between 19 and 21 years of age, had, in cold blood, murdered his father, while he was quietly sleeping on a lounge, about 4 o'clock. The foul deed was committed with a grun which was held as close to the force that it. gun which was held so close to the face, that i was begrimed with the powder. The charge en ered the head through the right eye, leaving a shastly hole most of the way through. After his clothes and deliberately left the house. appears that the father, who is a mason by trade. was accistomed to indulge in the use of liquor occasionally, at which time he was always harm-less, and more inclined to fun and folly, than malice. He appears to have been drunk on this occasion, and his son had had an altercation about it, which created so much disturbance that the neighbors were called in, in the night, to quell the tumult. They succeeded in doing so, and late in the night, or in the early morning, had left the house, and inmates all quiet.

Some time after, and about 4 A. M., one of these persons heard the report of a gun, and fearing the worst, immediately started for the house. On his way, he met the young man, who immediately said "I've shot my father," "You have'nt, have you?" was the response and the reply way "You I have "You I ha reply was "Yes I have!" He was then told he must not go away, and he was accordingly de tained and left in custody of an Irishman living near by. On going to the house, the mother of the young man said her husband had killed him-self, but his position, lying naturally with his hand under his head, gave the lie to any such effort to account for the death, and led to the suspicion that she was either an accomplice, or wards ascertained that Harvey went to Boon-ville, and there inquired what time the cars said so through fear; no doubt the latter.

Upon raising an alarm, and going to look for Rarvey, the neighbors found that he had been allowed to escape. Judging from the success of the escape, it would appear that no immediate effort at pursuit was attempted, as it was afterwards escentiated that The Times argues that

Gen. Scott grievously mistakes the feeling of this country if he believes that good relations between America and England are to be preserved by any such suggestions as these We bave sent to Washington, not to open a controversy, but to demand a restitution. When here, he doubtless took the cars either for the east or west, more probably the former and may now be well as probably the former, and may now be out of
